ACCREDITATION STATUS AT INSPECTION: Accredited

DECISION ON REACCREDITATION:

- Reaccreditation awarded for the full three-year period.
- Decision on reaccreditation deferred.
- Award of reaccreditation refused.

Date: 8 February 2018
PART A - INTRODUCTION

1. Background to the institution

Ethan Hathaway (the Institution) provides business and financial training courses and coaching for business executives and financial professionals from various countries. The provision is delivered both in-house for specific clients and online. The Institution is established as a private limited company and was formed in August 2005 by its two owners. The owners are Directors of the company. The head office of the company is located in Hong Kong and the training takes place in hotel conference facilities in locations such as Lagos, Singapore, Nairobi, London and Dubai. The first training was delivered in April 2006.

The two Directors manage and run the Institution assisted by an administrator. One of the owners is the Director of Marketing and the other is the Director of Business Development.

Ethan Hathaway's mission is to deliver practical training courses that give financially valuable skills to clients around the world.

2. Brief description of the current provision

The large majority of Ethan Hathaway’s training is instructor led. A yearly schedule of open public courses is offered. The largest volume of courses takes place in the fourth financial quarter, between October and December to fit in with the typical spending patterns for training by large banks. In addition to these scheduled courses, Ethan Hathaway also provides bespoke in-house training to meet the needs of clients within the financial sector and other sectors such as oil and gas, fast moving consumer goods (FMCG) and logistics. It also offers standalone online training courses, which consist of pre-recorded webinars and e-books.

The courses are developed and delivered by self-employed trainers. The provision covers a wide range of business and financial topics such as Asset and Liability Management, Accounting and Auditing, Credit and Corporate finance, Compliance and Risk Management, Capital Markets and Derivatives, Project and Trade Finance, Treasury Management, Leadership and Supply Chain Management, Oil and Gas topics and Project Management.

In a typical year, around 300 delegates attend the courses. Delegates include those undertaking senior roles in organisations such as international banks and multi-national companies. The delegates are mainly sponsored by their company to attend training as part of their learning and development. Courses typically range in duration from two to five days.

At the time of the inspection, 80 part-time delegates were enrolled, the majority of whom were male. The delegates, who were undertaking face-to-face learning, were enrolled on five full-day sessions. They were from Indonesia, China, Singapore, Nigeria, Ghana, Kenya, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, Malaysia, Oman, Kuwait and the United Kingdom. The majority of delegates were enrolled on the Certified Procurement and Purchasing Specialist, Certified Corporate Compliance Specialist and the E-banking Opportunities Specialist courses. Other delegates were undertaking courses sessions in Certified Business Operations and Enterprise Risk Management. These courses were delivered either online or face-to-face.

3. Inspection process

The inspection was carried out by one inspector over two and a half days. An observation of teaching and learning was carried out at a hotel training venue in Dubai, where a class of four delegates were attending a five day session on procurement and purchasing. A tour of the training premises in Dubai was undertaken and staff and students were interviewed. Various documentation was reviewed. The second and third days were spent at the head office in Hong Kong. The inspection included scrutinising documentation, reviewing online systems and meetings with both the Directors and the Administrator. The Directors provided the inspector with all the necessary documentation in order to conduct the inspection effectively both in Dubai and Hong Kong. The staff co-operated well with requests to supply additional information.

PART B - JUDGEMENT AND EVIDENCE
The following judgements and comments are based upon evidence seen by the inspector(s) during the inspection and from documentation provided by the institution.

INSPECTION AREA - MANAGEMENT, STAFFING AND ADMINISTRATION

1. The institution is effectively managed

1.1 The management structure is clearly defined, documented and understood, including the role and extent of authority of any owners, trustees or governing body.  Yes No

1.2 The head of the institution and other senior managers are suitably qualified and experienced, understand their specific responsibilities and are effective in carrying them out. Yes No

1.3 There are clear channels of communication between the management and staff. Yes No

This standard is judged to be: Met Partially Met Not Met

Comments

Ethan Hathaway is a family run business, which is managed very effectively. One person is responsible for marketing and the other for business development. Both Directors have suitable qualifications and extensive experience in the corporate sector.

The Directors have daily informal meetings and discussions. Formal recorded meetings take place between the teaching staff and the Administrator. Management team meetings are documented.

The personnel who host course delegates at the venues provide daily feedback to the head office in Hong Kong. As a result, the head office staff are aware of any issues that arise during the training.

2. The administration of the institution is effective

2.1 Administrators are suitably qualified or experienced and understand their specific responsibilities and duties. Yes No

2.2 The size of the administrative team is sufficient to ensure the effective day-to-day running of the institution. Yes No

2.3 The administrative support available to the management is clearly defined, documented and understood. Yes No

2.4 Policies, procedures and systems are well documented and effectively disseminated across the institution. Yes No

2.5 Data collection and collation systems are effective. Yes No

This standard is judged to be: Met Partially Met Not Met

Comments

The Administrator has been appropriately trained in the use of standard operating procedures, formatting course materials, creating certificates, updating course analysis reports and the use of the Customer Relationship Management electronic system. The processes in place, together with the fact that there is a suitably trained administrator, ensure that all arrangements for external course delivery run smoothly.

The internal messaging system, called The Slack System, is robust and secure. Data collection and collation systems are detailed, suit the needs of the Institution and are reported to be exemplary by the trainers. Inspection findings support this view.

The Directors have developed a bespoke, high quality electronic system to support the efficient running of the organisation.
3. The institution employs appropriate staff

Comments

Prior to appointment, the suitability of all staff is assessed through an analysis of their skills, experience and teaching styles to ensure they meet the organisation's requirements.

Administrative staff undergo regular in-house training on the operating procedures and the systems for organising the workshops and related documentation.

The performance appraisal system supports staff in benchmarking their own performance against management expectations and provides good opportunities for self-reflection.

4. Publicity material, both printed and electronic, gives a comprehensive, up-to-date and accurate description of the institution and its curriculum

Comments

The website provides helpful, accurate and detailed information on the courses to delegates and their sponsors. Delegates report that they find the information provided on the website to be extremely helpful, especially as the training, workshops and modules are created a year in advance. This enables the delegates and their sponsors to make plans a year in advance.
5. The institution takes reasonable care to recruit and enrol suitable learners for its courses

5.1 Entry requirements for each course are set at an appropriate level and clearly stated in the course descriptions seen by prospective learners.

5.2 A formal application process ensures that learners meet the entry requirements and any claimed qualifications are verified.

5.3 Learners are properly briefed on the nature and requirements of the courses for which they apply, and all application enquiries responded to promptly and appropriately.

5.4 Any overseas recruitment agents are properly selected, briefed, monitored and evaluated.

5.5 Learners receive a proper initial assessment which includes language ability to confirm their capability to complete the courses on which they are enrolling.

This standard is judged to be: ☐ Met ☐ Partially Met ☐ Not Met

Comments
Companies sponsor their staff to attend the courses on the basis of the companies’ perceived need and there are no pre-requisite qualifications. However, the courses clearly indicate the job roles for which they are suitable.

Delegates and sponsors are readily able to access appropriate information on what to expect from attendance on a course and the suitability of the course for their job roles. The trainer confirmed that the learners who are enrolled are suitable for the course they are attending. Inspection findings confirm this view.

6. There is an appropriate policy on learner attendance and effective procedures and systems to enforce it

6.1 There is a clear and published policy on learner attendance and punctuality, requiring that they attend at least 80% of their scheduled classes.

6.2 Accurate and secure records of attendance and punctuality at each session are kept for all learners, collated centrally and reviewed at least weekly.

6.3 Learner absences are followed up promptly and appropriate action taken.

This standard is judged to be: ☐ Met ☐ Partially Met ☐ Not Met

Comments
Full attendance is required on all face-to-face learning. If a delegate fails to attend, the host at the training venue will contact the delegate as soon as possible to see if any assistance is required. Registers are taken once a day. As a result, attendance rates are very high, with the vast majority of delegates attending all sessions.

Some of the sponsoring companies require attendance verification forms to be completed on a daily basis.
7. The institution regularly obtains and records feedback from learners and other stakeholders and takes appropriate action where necessary

7.1 The institution has effective mechanisms for obtaining feedback from learners and other stakeholders (such as staff, partner institutions and employers) on all aspects of the institution’s provision, including formal learner representation where appropriate.
   ![yes_no] Yes  No

7.2 Feedback is obtained, recorded and analysed on a regular basis.
   ![yes_no] Yes  No

7.3 The feedback is reviewed by management and action is taken where necessary.
   ![yes_no] Yes  No

7.4 There is a mechanism for reporting on the institution’s response to the feedback to the learner body.
   ![yes_no] Yes  No

This standard is judged to be:
   ![met_partially_not_met] Met  Partially Met  Not Met

Comments

Delegates complete feedback forms after each course. The feedback forms provide a good method of reviewing performance and there is a good spread of appropriate questions. The feedback forms also provide useful marketing information and ideas for future course development.

There is an open door policy and candidates can approach the trainer or e-mail the Institution's staff at any time with any concerns. As a result, if any concerns are raised, appropriate action can be taken in response to the feedback very quickly, in order to ensure the comfort and well being of all the delegates.

The feedback is analysed and the action taken, as a result of the feedback, is recorded to enable effective monitoring.

8. The institution has effective systems to review its own standards and assess its own performance with a view to continuing improvement

8.1 There are effective systems for monitoring and periodically reviewing all aspects of the institution's performance.
   ![yes_no] Yes  No

8.2 Reports are compiled at least annually which present the results of the institution’s reviews and incorporate action plans. Reports include analysis of year-on-year results on learner satisfaction, retention, achievement, examination results and completion rates.
   ![yes_no] Yes  No

8.3 Action plans are implemented and regularly reviewed, with outcomes reported to the management.
   ![yes_no] Yes  No

This standard is judged to be:
   ![met_partially_not_met] Met  Partially Met  Not Met

Comments

An appropriate annual reporting process is conducted as part of a regular cycle of review, during which improvements that can be made to improve the quality of the provision are discussed. Self-evaluation is used effectively as part of the review process and the evaluation of the Institution's performance. Delegates, sponsors and instructors are involved in the review process and their views taken into account.

Action plans have clear, ambitious but realistic targets, which show how the provision has been developed and improved over time.

Effective engagement with delegates, instructors and sponsors makes a strong contribution to improving the Institutions' outcomes.
9. Academic management is effective

9.1 There is a suitably qualified and experienced academic manager or academic management team with responsibility for teaching, learning and assessment.

9.2 Classes are timetabled and rooms allocated appropriately for the courses offered.

9.3 The allocation of tutors to classes provides for a consistent learning experience.

9.4 There is an appropriate policy and effective procedures for the acquisition of academic resources.

Comments

The Operations Manual includes relevant information about what to take into account when allocating instructors to courses and training venues.

The training venues are chosen well to suit the course delivery.

The Directors ensure that the trainers have a passion for their chosen topics and that they are experts in their particular sector with relevant and up-to-date experience. Trainers use training activities that are accurately focused on meeting the delegates' needs and promote effective learning. As a result the outcomes for the delegates are good.

High quality and sector specific training resources are developed by the trainer and produced by the Institution. They are used well to engage and motivate the delegates.

Comments

The courses are designed well by industry experts and practitioners and meet the needs of the delegates well. The course descriptions clearly indicate the job roles for which they are suitable.

The trainers encourage delegates to develop independent learning skills and to think and work creatively. The learners say that their needs and requirements are taken into account in the sessions and they are acquiring important up-to-date information and knowledge. Inspection findings confirm this view.

An appropriate internal multiple choice assessment is used well to test learning. Instructors set challenging tasks, which are based on this assessment and provide guidance to delegates to enable them to know how to improve their work.

The trainers show a good understanding of the needs and prior attainment and knowledge of the delegates and plan their delivery accordingly.
11. Tutors are suitable for the courses to which they are allocated and effective in delivering them

11.1 Tutors are appropriately qualified and experienced. Yes No

11.2 Tutors have a level of subject knowledge, pedagogic and communicative skill which allows them to deliver the content of courses effectively. Yes No

11.3 The appraisal procedures for teaching staff incorporate regular classroom observation. Yes No

11.4 Tutors are supported in their continuing professional development and enabled to develop further pedagogic techniques to enhance learning. Yes No

11.5 Tutors respond to different learning needs of learners where appropriate, taking various learning styles into account in their planning and delivery of lessons. Yes No

11.6 Tutors employ effective strategies to involve all learners in active participation and to check their understanding of concepts and course content. Yes No

Comments

Ethan Hathaway uses trainers with specialist skills and expertise in their field. They have a minimum of 15 years of industry experience and are, therefore, very knowledgeable. They use effective learning activities, which are well planned and motivate and engage the students well. The case studies and scenarios that are used match the delegates' needs well with respect to their individual cultural needs and aptitudes.

The delegates' course evaluation forms are scrutinised by senior managers and any concerns are followed up with the individual trainer. The evaluation forms are seen by the trainer as part of the feedback process and so that they know what has gone well and what they may need to do to improve.

11.4 The trainers are self-employed and undertake their own continuing professional development. Therefore, this standard is not applicable.

12. The institution provides learners and tutors with access to appropriate resources and materials for study

This standard is judged to be: Met Partially Met Not Met

Comments

Delegates are provided with comprehensive course materials, which are developed by the trainers and produced by Ethan Hathaway.
13. Learners receive appropriate assessment and feedback on their performance and progress, which are effectively monitored

13.1 Courses are planned to include a schedule of assessments, the procedures and criteria for which are available in writing and in advance to learners and tutors.

13.2 Assessment outcomes are monitored to enable the identification of learners who are not making satisfactory progress and prompt intervention where appropriate.

13.3 Learners are made aware of how their progress relates to their targeted level of achievement.

13.4 The institution takes appropriate steps to identify and discourage cheating and other misdemeanours, and to penalise offenders.

13.5 Additional support or advice on alternative courses is provided to learners who are judged not to be making sufficient progress to succeed.

13.6 Oral and written feedback is given to individual learners on a regular basis, tailored to meet their specific needs and constructive in its nature and delivery.

13.7 Learners have appropriate access outside class time to tutors for academic support.

Comments

Courses include a final multiple choice assessment to test the delegates' learning from the course.

The delegates receive a certificate of attendance on successful completion of the certifying programmes.

In class sessions, the trainer sets suitably challenging activities and uses relevant scenarios to inspire the delegates to achieve high levels of learning.

14. The institution offers courses leading to accredited awards granted by recognised awarding bodies wherever appropriate

14.1 For courses leading to a national award in the country the institution operates in, the award is formally recognised by the national award-validating body.

14.2 For courses leading to the award of a UK degree, the institution has a formal agreement with a recognised UK degree-awarding body.

14.3 For courses leading to other UK awards, the awarding body is recognised by the relevant regulator.

14.4 For courses leading to the award of an overseas degree, the institution has a formal partnership agreement with the overseas degree-awarding body, which is itself accredited by a recognised national agency.

Delegates receive a detailed fact sheet with all the information they require before arrival, including information about airport transfers, accommodation, internal travel and hotel facilities. On the first day, they receive an appropriate induction, which includes details about health and safety and first aid arrangements.

At the hotel venues, the course host is responsible for the delegates' welfare and deals with any queries that arise.

Trainers are available to provide support to the delegates outside class hours. The hosts at the training delivery venues are also available as an out of hours contact person.

Comments

International delegates receive appropriate information including about the training venue and its location.

The hotels, where the training takes place, provide food which caters for all diets and tastes. Cultural and religious considerations are fully taken into account. For example, halal food is available and there is a dedicated prayer room.

Delegates say that they receive good advice and guidance prior to arrival and are made to feel comfortable and welcome by both the host at the hotel and by the trainer. Inspection findings confirm this view.

Comments

The administrative office in Hong Kong is appropriately secure and is adequately maintained and equipped.

The training takes place in conference rooms within high quality hotels. The venues provide a very comfortable environment for learning.

At the start of the course, delegates are introduced to the venue and its facilities and receive detailed health and safety information. This includes the hotel's safety and emergency guidelines, evacuation procedures and routes.

26. Training rooms and other learning areas are appropriate for the courses offered
